

every poem is a step with untied shoe strings snaking between the last step and the next
when you trip over yourself...
uncontrolled free fall
determined by
the length of the string.

a step.
wf.h.
2023