

perhaps satan is nothing more than unruly hormones and perhaps god is the luminous nerve lashed to our dreams along with post mortem angels.

i am vigilant about these sort of interpretations living in the intimate landscape where so many things wash up on the shore and so many other things happen off the books.

accountants dealing with the visions.
wf.h
2018