

her joke.
she was a mystic figure telling the future with tarot cards.
what was the joke
well with her eyes closed she always removed
one card from the deck
and never looked to see which one it was.

i denounced her for being a spiritual fraud.

she assured me

that she was the most honest reader in this world and the next world.

it was her way of accounting for the things you can never see coming.

i demanded to know

if she had done that for my reading...

no.

absolutely not.

for my type she recognizes

my chaos and morals so she makes an exception

removing two

and spitting on one of them.
