

dreams do not have to defend what they are explaining.

if you listen they are pebbles thrown against the window telling you to get up.

if you do not listen they are rocks that will shatter the glass and let things come into the room that laugh with a horrid breath while chewing up the crawling babies trying to crawl away from your head.

dreams do not have to defend.

wf.h.

2022