

poetry is the rugged terrain where extremists live.
it is committed to the struggle.

of black or white.

of scourging weak spirits in public.

identifying them with similes.

identifying them with metaphors.

asking them for their forged transcendental papers.

well how attractive is middle aged whining.

real poetry carries assault weapons hunting down equivocators.
