

factual accuracy belongs to others.

i do not mind being the factual inaccuracy as long as i can establish the pointless significance of being an unembellished being.

and there i go again

pretending i am a guide wearing the honorable disguise of best outcomes but secretly i am riddled with bad and suspect processes freewheeling and refereeing moments of truth as i see fit.

sometimes the best outcome for me is me as a sleeper waiting for time travel to reveal that it is not the best outcome for others perhaps i am the model that is a gateway for loose fact storytelling.

a sublime fabulist

a genetic deluder

a romancer of false witness a fanciful trickster.

living with fibber truth as entertainment believing that truth

belongs to those who claim it denouncing the ones who grew up thinking

facts are more real than interests.

factual accuracy.
