

slogans eat unprepared meat
for prepared viewing.
the raw meat
that raised
them
and
the raw meat
that they
stumbled
across.

nothing between takedown and consumption slogans do not wait for thought the decisions have been made the diet is not nuanced

a couple of bouncy words

easy to pronounce intensities

simple conclusions

not agreements

al fresco dining with place settings of spectacles and broken glass.

i have never seen gathered crowds with the expression...

gathered crowds.
