

god created lovers because he needed something in the universe to realize he had the greater love and how it could be taken away
under certain conditions
like a slight in worship

or a dissatisfaction over any one misplaced offering or general neglect of the sacred herd of temple cattle or forgetting the day of worship after he went to the effort of creating time...

big reason

petty reason

whimsical

playful

or a full load of no reason smite.

it is part of the natural process

when the ineffable wants a reputation.

god created lovers.
