

i do not know why it is that i sometimes think i am separate from what i see or different from what i have done.... there is nothing as easy as not being yourself but when visitors come to your house just to see you you find you are one as well.

i do not know why.
wf.h.
2018