

i see them on the side of the roads in their poverty and addictions and in these ghosts on the side of humanity the real beggars beg for the heart living in conditions that do not seem to change with wounds that do not heal...
why are they on the streets alone and why would anyone make streets that they then avoid.

i see them.
wf.h.
2018