

funerals and sorrows walk down the street.

in the middle of the day

it is the middle of the night.

    this summer is not free of the cold

    thinking about the graves of family and friends in one place and wanting them to be in another.

in one place.

wf.h.

2019