

initially i was overjoyed. the two abandoned forest lost children brutally killed the cannibal witch.
burned down her house filled with unspeakable evils.
slew her dark familiars on the way out.
i did say initially
    however my mood changed.
        these small children
        have acquired new skills
            killing adults
            slaughtering pets
            and now they walk among us.

initially i was overjoyed.
