

why would anyone raise the dead... and it gets even more complicated than that do you raise them six inches do you raise them two feet do you raise them to your expectations do you raise them to their expectations is there a biometric expectation is there a non-disclosure agreement just how much of eternity can be disclosed.

do you think of it as the lost moment when you could have been joined with god by his throne and the throng of fluttering angels just to be ripped back and have to go through all the farewells again.

it gets even more complicated.
