

just as expected...

still i wanted to see the just as expected.

overnight it was all i could think about...

a common sandpiper

foraging for food in the coastal mudflats

a trail of mud and disturbed prey and quick lunges.

has the eye of my soul

always been prepared to see in flesh

the preparation

for migratory flight

and not what feeds it

or is migration

nothing more than what it eats when the soul finds itself hungry.

just as expected.
