

when it comes to organizing the people responsible for commerce in the marketplace of sin

some things need to happen faster than other things... consider how long and how much skill is required to become an uninsured snake handler
in babylon.

no one identifies

or claims the remains

of failed apprentices without assets.

the bodies pile up.

there is the loss of consumer confidence.

the poisoners cannot find the poisons of their choice.

the dancers lose their suggestively agile dance partners.

the prophets have to go without the stuff staffs are made of.

recognizing talent allows the essential trades to continue and the city to grow.

recognizing talent.
