some nights i think that the night skies are not above us… it seems that we are standing in them and beside them…. other nights i think the stars are old love letters on the battlefield but most of all it seems they are the loose footsteps of time.

some nights.
wf.h.
2019