

big and soft sounds

the coo of doves wakes us up in the morning

i would hardly describe it as a lonesome sound

compared to the train whistle that passes by

in some conceivable synchronicity with dawn.

this is the depth of the arrangements

we live with...

no one dishonors it.

the depth.

wf.h.

2023