

what do you say to the end of the worlders whether they are chanting processional prayers or screaming extinction threats and warning that all the signs are there.
they obviously believe in judgments and what is coming.
i have nine words
for the apocalyptic stalkers
on raised pulpits
or wandering the streets or overcoming their medications.
not that i am big on schedules
but the words come out...
and after that
will my train arrive on time.

the end of the worlders.
