

trying not to interfere

i usually will not

but if asked i will answer the young and explain what i think.

it is their business now.

i am busy with the business of being old.

i can listen to what they are saying but not for long.

they can listen to what i am saying but not for long.

at least we still have something in common.

trying not to interfere.

wf.h.

2024