

his dog went under the house to be left alone until it died it was private.

i think it must have been in part instinct...

to wait it out where other things could not get to her.

i am not sure whether it involved some form of dignity or if it did not have any other defenses left.

under the house.

wf.h.

2023