

waiting for the divine in death is not arriving at the party late as much as not understanding when the party began and even more that no invitation was required.

waiting for the divine.
wf.h.
2018