

i am not sure why
anyone finds it difficult to establish what gender identity means and which one does someone have these days.

so many views
in one landscape
but it seems simple to me.

look at what
then look at who
then look at why
the one who is under question kills... especially in early spring.

why anyone finds it difficult.
